Güntner: Robert Gerle joins A-HEAT Executive Board

The Supervisory Board of A-HEAT AG is pleased to announce that Mr. Robert Gerle has been appointed to its Executive Board, effective immediately.

Long-term and outstanding industry expertise

Robert Gerle has a wealth of experience within the Güntner Group, being a valued member for over 28 years. During this period, he has held a variety of managerial positions, most recently heading up the company's European and Asian organisations, in addition to managing its global Sales and Marketing activities.

As the third member of the Executive Board, he is now able to use his global experience and expertise in strategic business management to continue the success and growth of the Group. Part of his responsibility will be to anticipate the technological and economical challenges facing the company in future, and to actively shape the corporate strategy accordingly.

"I very much look forward to globally strengthening the innovative partnership with our customers and system partners in this new position," says Robert Gerle. "We have courage and set ambitious targets!"
